capsule

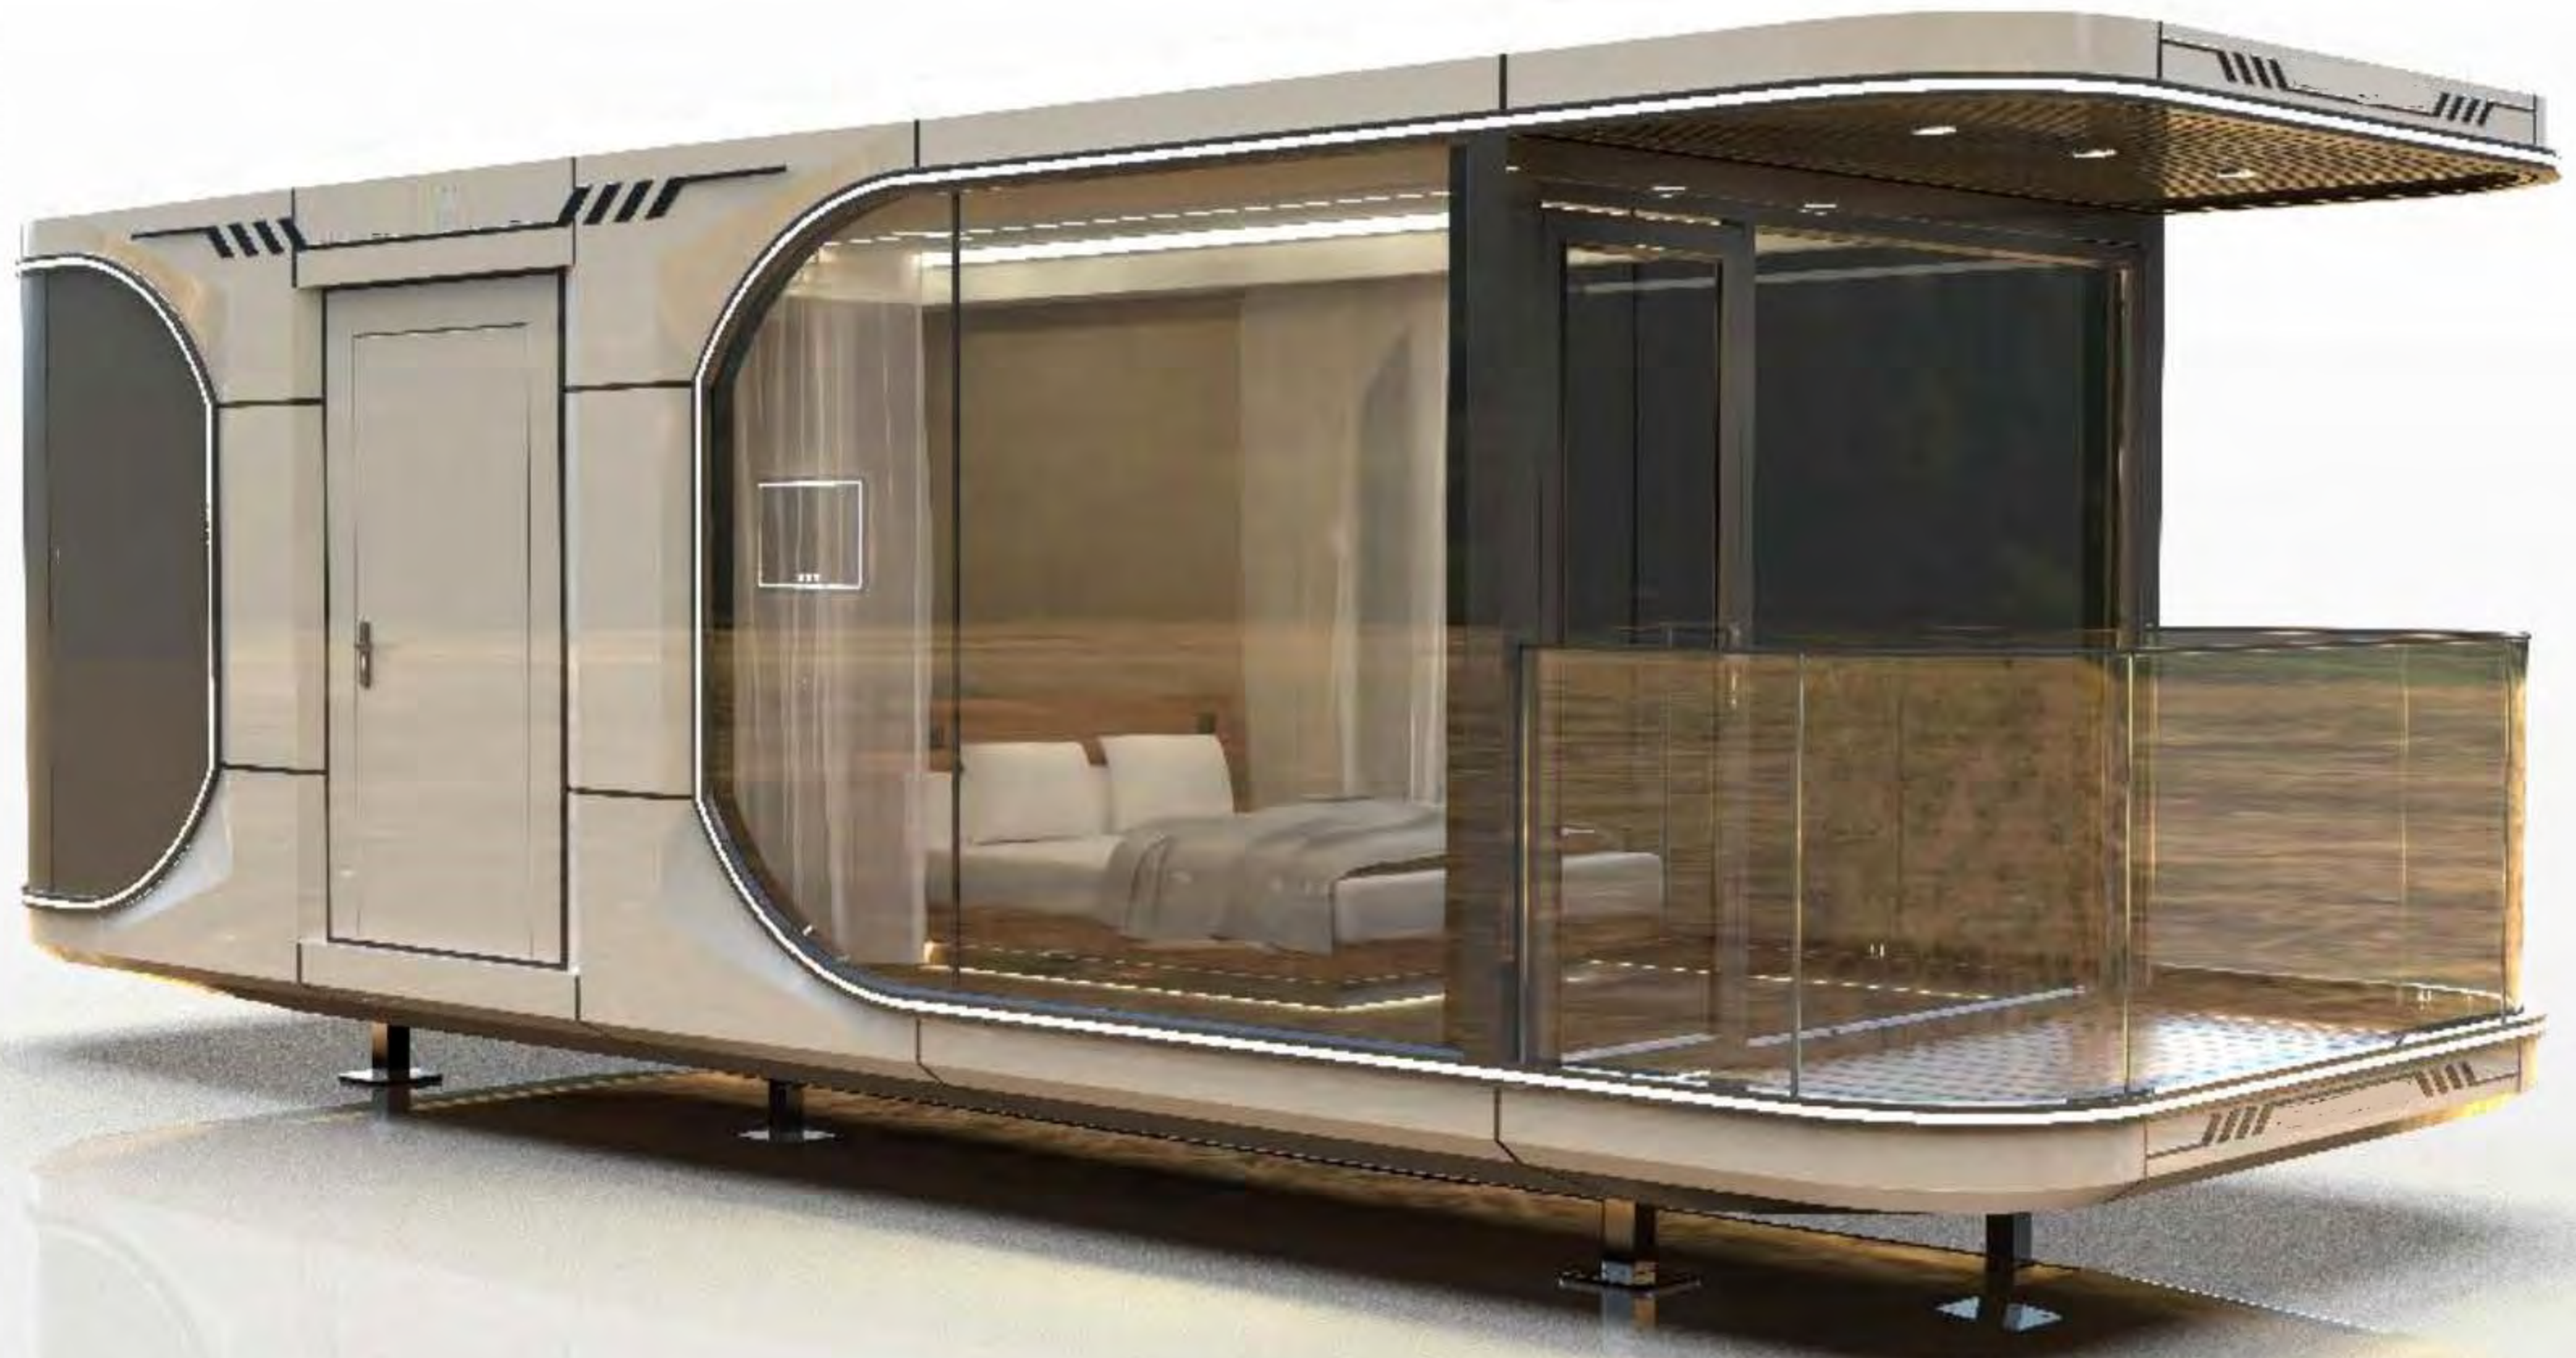

The overall use of modernist design techniques enhances the vitality and attractiveness of the steel structure cabin itself. Stable and modern, low-key and luxurious, simple and rich in connotation, using design integration techniques and reasonable use of modern decorative materials, fully reflecting the connotation of the collision between the entire building and the interior, so that the interior style truly achieves the continuation of architectural significance. The textured fiberboard fully showcases the advanced and sci-fi feel of the cabin. The wood texture also presents traditional and modern furniture styles. Truly achieve simplicity and practicality. The overall color tone inside the cabin varies from dark to light. Locally equipped with linear lighting, fully experiencing the connotation of the times.

- This product takes the spacecraft as the main element, and then uses the lines inspired by the whale's body to abstract the biomimetic design and integrate it into the spacecraft's exterior design, combining a smooth appearance and a sense of technology, with stability and agility.
- The predecessor design has tough lines, like a whale's head with tremendous tension, giving the appearance a grand visual experience and an overall sense of mystery.
